

TOMSON HIGHWAY AT CONCORDIA!

He reads Dostoevsky, plays Chopin on the piano and sprinkles his conversation with references to classical Greek drama. Yet he was born in his trapper-father's bush camp in northern Manitoba and spoke mainly Cree until he was in his teens.

Tomson Highway has learned to straddle two worlds with more grace than most people manage one.

Tomson Highway, award-winning playwright of Dry Lips Oughta Move to Kapuskasing and The Rez Sisters will give a lecture during Native Awareness Week to celebrate the opening of the J.W. McConnell Building.

TOMSON HIGHWAY appears through the CANADIAN PROGRAMMING SERVICE

Tuesday, October 27, 1992
7 pm
J.A. de Sève Cinema
1400 de Maisonneuve Blvd. W.

Concordia
UNIVERSITY

REAL EDUCATION FOR THE REAL WORLD